RMGC's Emergency Response Team Performs Well at Safety Olympiad

RMGC Emergency Response Team Medic Atrayu Pickering assesses and treats a patient during the 2023 Safety Olympiad's competition in Winnemucca. Read more about the team's performance at the Olympiad on pages 2 and 3.

RMGC's Mine Rescue Team in Action

The RMGC Emergency Response Team was accompanied by family members and RMGC representatives. Team members include Alternate Shilo Thompson, Medic Kenna Burton, ERT Coordinator John Burton, Utility Jonathan Olsen, Captain RJ Jones, Main Line Rigger Tyger Childs, Utility Kurt Albo, Belay Line Rigger Isabelle Collins, and Medic Atrayu Pickering. Also pictured are GM/VP Neil Jensen, HR Superintendent Sam Faga, Safety Superintendent Nicole Silberschlag, and Mine Department Superintendent Rusty O'Dell. Below are Shilo Thompson's kids, Morgan and Cooper, watching the ER team in a scenario.

During the weekend of August 17-19, the RMGC's emergency response team took part in the 2023 Safety Olympiad in Winnemucca, NV, hosted by Nevada Gold Mines Turquoise Ridge. This is a change of venue as it has been historically hosted in Elko, NV.

According to veteran Olympiad competitor John Burton, the competition was as tough as ever. Thursday's content included a Fun Day, giving participants a chance to settle in. Then on Friday, Stations Day, the team had the opportunity to showcase their talents in the multiple stations: High Angle Rescue, Confined Space Rescue, Hazmat, Fire, Medical, and a written test station. Then Saturday was the main scenario which combined simultaneous rescue missions in a large-scale emergency situation.

New trainer David Reid and fire trainer Sheldon Self brought fresh perspective to this year's Olympiad preparations. "It was refreshing to have new trainers guiding the team," said ERT Coordinator John Burton. "We trained hard and came home with first place in the Fire station and third place overall in A-Flight," he continued. John noted that it's an achievement in and of itself to make it to A-Flight. Trainer David Reid added, "The effort was top notch and it showed," he said referring to the event placings. (Continue on page 3.)

Training For Emergencies They Hope They Never See

(con't from pg 2) Overall, the team of veteran competitors and new team members had a great Olympiad “The team performed very well throughout training and up at the competition,” said John. “I’m very proud of the group, and wish to thank RMGC management, Town of Round Mountain Volunteer Fire Department, our trainers and the entire RMGC ERT. Without them, the success would not have been possible,” he added.

The pictures on this page show some of the intensive training the RMGC mine rescue team conducts in the two weeks leading up to the Safety Olympiad. Trainer David Reid, pictured below, back row far left, said even though the team trains for emergency situations all year, the two weeks before the competition gives the team the opportunities to prepare for the multiple skills needed in the Olympiad.

“I am incredibly proud of what this team has accomplished especially since they have quite a few new members. I’m honored that they choose to give their time and effort to our site and our community.”

RMGC Safety Superintendent

Lady Knights—Tournament Winners

The Lady Knights Volleyball team swept the Beatty Tournament undefeated last weekend, August 25-26. Lead by head coach Kenndra Larsen and assistant coach Shawna Mabe, the Lady Knights played in memory of their beloved coach Anna Berg who passed away last year. "It came down to the final third set in the semifinals with an amazing save by Baylee Dutton and Halle Larson," Coach Kenndra said. "We are excited for the season. We know what these young ladies are capable of. They put in the work this weekend," she added.

The Lady Knights start regular season play at their first home game on September 9 against McDermitt starting at 3:30pm at the RMHS Gymnasium. For the complete fall game schedule, see page 5 of this issue of the Valley View.
