Safety Team Delivered Hands-On, Interactive 2023 ART

Targets Met at 2023 Annual Refresher Training

Spicing up an annual eight hour refresher training takes ingenuity and creativity. That’s just what this year’s safety team did. Safety Superintendent Nicole Silberschlag challenged this year’s trainers to take the required MSHA material and come up with interactive and engaging training sessions.

The trainers planned for months for the 2023 Annual Refresher Training. While the training topics are set by MSHA, the delivery and activities are organized by the safety team. “We have an amazing team full of people who are willing to think outside the box and accept the challenge of doing things differently,” said Nicole. “Our goal for this ART was to be engaging and give meaningful training, and it worked,” she continued. Nicole credits her team, starting with the trainers.

The feedback from the ART participants is how the team knows they were successful this year.

According to Nicole, she has received very positive feedback. Comments like, This was the first time ever that I didn’t feel like it was a waste of time, I’d come back tomorrow, and This was the BEST training I have ever attended were some of the responses the safety team received afterwards. “The employees’ smiles and conversations at the site were all the proof we needed to know we hit the target,” Nicole said.

Fitting over 850 employees into two weeks of trainings is a coordinated effort of big things and little things. The credit for getting all the little things done goes to Cindy Sims, Safety Clerk. Cindy coordinated the scheduling, food, prizes, facility rental, training schedules and follow-ups on 5000-23s. She also makes sure every single employee makes it to one of the training days.

Speaking of the food, the safety team took on the task of prepping, making and serving the lunch this year. “We hand-pressed over 850 hamburgers, hand-cut over 200 pounds of potatoes to make French fries, and made a fresh set of toppings daily, including mushrooms, onions, green chiles, bacon, and eggs for our burger bar,” said Nicole proudly. It seems the training attendees were very well fed.

In addition to the Cindy and the trainers, more people are to be thanked. Tim Chapman from Kinross Bald helped teach one of the classes. The Town of RM Recreation Center and the community gets a big thank you for allowing the safety team to leave up their scenarios for two weeks. It was also thanks in part to the Rec Center for the use of the facilities for the BBQ lunch.

Keeping 2023 ART Fresh and Engaging

New features in ART this year: live fire training, hands-on incident training, two energy isolation boards, an introduction to virtual reality training, and for the first time ever, mass hearing tests with a visiting hearing bus. Check out some photos of the interactive training on this page.

Hunter Education

Hunter Education is back!

Our local instructors have been given the green light to begin holding live hunter education classes again. They are currently looking at available Saturdays that will allow for all crews to have the option to attend. Books and workbooks can be picked up from the library. Workbooks must be completed BEFORE the class. Application period opens on March 21st and ends on May 10th. Licenses are received via email upon passing the course. We no longer give cards at the end of the class. Cost to attend is $5. Please watch in future Valley View publications for more information on class dates and how to register.

Nye County is now accepting applications for the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) Small Business Grant Program

For Fiscal Year 2023, Nye County has allocated $2,000,000 in ARPA funds to assist local small businesses adversely impacted by the COVID-19 public health emergency.

Grant Awards have been made available for small business and nonprofit applicants with fewer than 30 employees who are independently owned and operated.

If you were in business prior to March of 2020 and are still in business today, please visit the Nye County website by going to the Finance department ARPA tab to review the policy to see if you are eligible. You will also find a link to apply online.

<https://www.nyecountynv.gov/1090>

Businesses can request a grant for 20% of expenses reported on the most recent federal tax return. This is a reimbursement grant that can be used for operational expenses starting from 1/1/22.

If you have any questions please contact the grants team at:

2022 Smoky Valley 4-H Christmas Cheer Community Service Project

This December was the 5th year that Smoky Valley 4-H kids have participated in what has become our favorite community service project. Partnered with the RMGC Assay Lab we create and hand out 30 gift bags filled with hand-made art from the Cloverbuds class, Christmas cards from the kids, calendars, hats, mittens, blankets, warm socks, soaps, teas and coffee, puzzle books, candy and jerky and a few other items. These bags are hand delivered to special members of our community including our wonderful postal workers who work extra hard to make sure all the packages always get to where they are going this time of year. We also get to love on other members of our community who might not be able to travel to family this time of year. We are honored to get to step in and spread some cheer. It is the kids' favorite community service project and we all look forward to visiting with our friends when we deliver these special gifts.

RMES School Spelling Bee Winners

Dr. Seuss Reading Week at RMES February 27-March 2

Every year schools across the nation celebrate the birthday of the beloved children's author Dr. Seuss. Students get themed prizes based on Dr. Seuss characters for reading at home each day. In the classroom during this week, time is set aside daily to have students read independently. This year we would like to invite you to be a read-aloud volunteer. Please have a short children's book (it doesn't have to be a Seuss book) ready to bring with you to read. If you would like to volunteer some time to come and read to a classroom or classrooms, please call Tamra Long in the elementary office at 775-377-2236.
